Guidance

Use of funds

This funding is used for specific activities to support pupils to catch up for lost teaching over the previous months, in line with the guidance on curriculum expectations for the next academic year. To support schools to make the best use of this funding, the Education Endowment Foundation (EEF) has published a support guide for schools with evidence-based approaches to catch up for all students. Maryland has used this to direct additional funding in the most effective way. To support schools to implement their catch-up plans effectively, EEF has published the school planning guide: 2020 to 2021.

Accountability and Monitoring

As with all government funding, school leaders must be able to account for how this money is being used to achieve our central goal of schools getting back on track and teaching a normal curriculum as quickly as possible. This should include consideration of whether schools are spending this funding in line with their catch-up priorities, and ensuring appropriate transparency for parents. Ofsted plans to resume routine inspections in Summer 2021, with the exact timing being kept under review. When routine inspections restart, Ofsted will make judgements about the quality of education being provided, and that will include how leaders are using their funding (including catch-up funding) to ensure the curriculum has a positive impact on all pupils

Monitoring and Implementation

Maryland has a rigorous monitoring system, all of the above will be demonstrated through:

- Baseline assessment
- Benchmarking
- Tracking and monitoring by SLT, middle leaders, leaders, givers, SIA
- SLT strategic meetings
- Pupil progress meetings
- Formative and summative assessment including test results -measured against-national and local data
- Personal staff interview
- Attendance monitoring
- Pupil conferencing
